HOMING PIGEON'S VISIT.
Seemingly tired by a long flight a beautiful homing pigeon to-day stopped in Suffolk for a brief rest, and is well cared for by its captors. This afternoon a plump, well-fed carrier walked into the office of W. B. Ferguson & Co., and stopped. Captain Norfolk secured some good pigeon food, and the bird, apparently very happy, was released. An aluminum band on one of the bird's legs reads, "N. H. 3,857." The bird, after a good night's rest, will be liberated at 9 o'clock to-morrow.

The meeting was under the auspices of the committee recently named by Mayor Brewer and others. Manager Elam made the address at the hall. There was music by members of the Phoenix Band. About $118 was raised and that amount was materially increased to-day.

JUST A HOG.
It was reported this afternoon via the Drive neighborhood, where a phone message had been received from Chuckatuck, that a man had been killed near the latter village and that the murderer had escaped.

An investigation proved that it was only a hog which had been stolen. The thief is alleged to have eaten a part of the pork and buried the rest nearby. He left the place when officials went to see about it.

NEWPORT NEWS.

THE NEW DEMOCRATIC EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE ORGANIZED.
Newport News, Va., Sept. 24.—The new City Democratic Executive Committee has been organized. Mr. Ruth and his supporters were left entirely out. Disturbing elements were gotten rid of. The following officers were elected:

Mr. L. P. Stearns, chairman.
Mr. R. D. Hargrave, vice-chairman.
Mr. Harry McCauley, recording secretary.
Mr. Frank Reiley, corresponding secretary.
Mr. C. C. Smith, treasurer.
Mr. J. B. Clinedinst, sergeant-at-arms.

MAYNARD AT WORK.

Hon. H. L. Maynard, Democratic nominee from the Second District, has been actively in the Congressional campaign. He says his mind is not troubled by the injection of the labor candidate, Mr. Flynn, into the situation, and says he is prepared to make things interesting for the "Hon. Richard Ambitious Wise."

Mr. Maynard will stump the district himself, and a number of friends will help him. Thus far he has spoken in Charles City and Suffolk and dates have been made for him to speak in Isle of Wight the first Monday in October; in James City and York the third Monday in October; in Surry the fourth Monday in October, and at Princess Anne Courthouse November 6th.

A close personal friend of Mr. Maynard expresses the opinion that the labor candidate will cut a small figure in the campaign. Ninety per cent. of the Democrats in the ranks of organized labor will, according to the speaker's views, support Mr. Maynard, and the same will probably be true, to a great extent, of the Republicans in regard to their candidate.

"Mr. Maynard's opponents," he said, "are trying to make a large amount of political capital out of his attitude in regard to the fellow-servants' bill in the last Legislature, but the attempt is a failure. Mr. Maynard has been in public life for twelve years, and the opposition is able to point only to this one thing. As a matter of fact, the fellow-servants' or employers' liability bill, never came up in the Senate, consequently Mr. Maynard did not have an opportunity to vote upon it, though I am free to state that his vote would have been cast against it. He believed the bill to be class legislation, as it referred to none but locomotive engineers. While the bill was in the hands of the Senate committee an amendment was offered, making the bill apply to all classes of labor, such as shipyard and sawmill employees, etc., and this amendment was voted for by Mr. Maynard. Had it been carried he would readily have voted for the fellow-servants' bill."

AMUSEMENTS.

SHERLOCK HOLMES.
A full house greeted Wm. Gillette's dramatic sketch of the famous detective of Music last night, and the audience evidenced by oft repeated and enthusiastic applause that the author had not only been successful in building around Conan Doyle's famous hero a detective play, which is worthy of their approval, but that Charles Frohman had selected a company for its production eminently qualified in every respect for the task.

Every scene is a happy combination of charmingly executed, and embellished with electrical effects from start to finish, the play moves to its climax rapidly, every line and action teeming with excitement, and the audience is kept in a state of intense interest by an arch fiend, and a hero detective of the kind that surmounts every difficulty, combine to produce a plot that does not fail to satisfy the gallery.
